Friday Pre-Conference
3:30 p.m. – 5:00 p.m.
Project Rachel Ministry

In his 2009 homily on the Feast of Sts. Peter and Paul, Pope Benedict XVI soberly cautioned that “without the healing of souls, without the healing of man from within there can be no salvation for humanity.” How essential then to the mission of the Church are the pastoral and apostolic activities that draw women and men burdened by the sin of abortion closer to God’s merciful heart. It is no exaggeration to say that the Church’s ministry of healing and reconciliation after abortion known as Project Rachel is at the heart of the Church’s mission at this time of her history. Project Rachel, is a network of specially trained priests, counselors and laypersons that provide a team response of care for those suffering the aftermath of abortion from an unplanned pregnancy. Mary McClusky from the US Conference of Catholic Bishops will speak at the Pre-Conference about post-abortion healing and specifically about Project Rachel Ministry and Development.

Youth Conference
Saturday 10:00 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.

The Diocese of Pensacola–Tallahassee Office of Advocacy and Justice in collaboration with the Office of Youth Ministry are proud to sponsor the 2015 Respect Life Youth Conference. The Youth Conference is open to all high school teens (grades 9-12) from all over the state of Florida. The conference will focus on this year’s Respect Life theme: Every Life is Worth Living. The teens will learn how advances in biotechnology actually threaten human life. They will come to understand that justice can be restorative and that generous love and mercy is the best way to fight the culture of death. The Youth Conference will be held on Saturday, October 24, 2015, from 10:00 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., at the Florida State Conference Center (The Turnbull Center), on the campus of Florida State University. The cost is only $25 which includes lunch. More details regarding the 2015 Respect Life Youth Conference will be available in July on our website at www.ptdiocese.org
