

Existing Councils Focused on Children Ages Birth to Eight

Florida benefits from several existing councils dedicated to improving the lives of the state's youngest children. The following councils are examples and each contributes to the strength of Florida's early learning system serving children ages birth to eight. A goal of the State Advisory Council is to coordinate amongst councils to ensure a consistent and unified message is given when determining priority issues for young children.

- Florida's Children and Youth Cabinet
- Early Learning Advisory Council
- Child Abuse Prevention and Permanency Advisory Council
- Early Childhood Comprehensive Systems Initiative
- Partner's Initiative
- Framework for the Future of Florida's Children
